

Judge Schirick Held a Very Busy Session of Court Here on Friday

Arguments Ranged From Request to Dismiss Murder Indictment to Granting Injunction to Restrain Wife From Annoying Spouse.

QUESTIONS OF LAW

Several Motions at Special Term Here Resulted in Questions of Law Being Raised.

William Lockett of Hudson is held in the Columbia county jail awaiting trial on indictments charging him with the murder of his wife and another woman. Friday his attorney, R. M. Herzberg of Hudson, appeared before Judge Harry E. Schirick holding a special term of supreme court at the court house here, asking that one of the murder indictments against his client be dismissed on the ground that it had not been legally presented. The motion was opposed by District Attorney Best of Columbia county, and at the close of the arguments Judge Schirick directed the attorneys to file briefs and reserved decision on the motion.

From the argument made by Attorney Herzberg it developed that while Judge Schirick was holding a trial term of supreme court in February in Hudson, that the indictment against Lockett was presented. Mr. Herzberg argued that the indictment had not been properly presented. He said that while the supreme court was in session the district attorney and the foreman of the grand jury had entered the court room and the district attorney had stated that the grand jury then in session desired to make a partial report, and that the district attorney then read the indictment found against Lockett charging Lockett with the murder of his wife.

Attorney Herzberg claimed that the grand jury was not polled at the time of the reading of the indictment and that the indictment should have been presented by the foreman of the grand jury and not the district attorney. To support his claim that the jury had not been polled he produced affidavits made by two members of the Columbia county bar who were present in the court room at the time in which they stated that the grand jury had not been polled.

On the ground that the proper legal procedure had not been taken in presenting the indictment against Lockett, his attorney moved that Judge Schirick dismiss the indictment.

Judge Schirick, who had listened attentively to the arguments of Attorney Herzberg, observed that as he recalled it the grand jury had not been polled.

District Attorney Best in reply to Herzberg said he would stipulate for the record that the grand jury had not been polled. He said that in order to give the court the proper background of the case he desired to call the judge's attention to the fact that the two affidavits submitted by members of the Columbia county bar, one had been drafted by his opponent at the last election and the other by the district attorney he had succeeded in office. He said that at the time the indictment was presented to the court the entire 19 members of the grand jury were in their accustomed seats in the court room. As far as the reading of the indictment was concerned he said that he had read it at the request of the foreman of the grand jury. He produced the affidavits in the 19 members of the grand jury in which they stated that they were present in the court room when the indictment against Lockett was presented and read.

Judge Schirick said he would reserve decision on the motion.

It developed that a second indictment had also been found against Lockett by the grand jury, which charged Lockett with the murder of Jean Putnam Clark. To this indictment Attorney Herzberg stated he wanted to demur on the ground that the indictment was defective in that it charged Lockett twice with the crime of murder. He claimed that the indictment has not been properly drawn.

In reply District Attorney Best stated that the indictment had been drafted word for word from a form as printed in a well known book of legal procedure. He contended that the indictment was proper in form.

Judge Schirick reserved decision in this motion also.

Enrollment in Cohoes.

Henry S. Kahn, assistant district attorney of Albany county, made application for a mandamus to compel the election board of Albany county to place the names of some 100 voters on the enrollment lists of that county. He claimed that the 100 residents were all members of the Democratic party and had voted the Democratic ticket for the past five years. At the last election they had been marked with an X in the circle under the Democratic emblem on the enrollment ballot and learned that the ballots had been marked by some one, and that as the ballots were mutilated the election board had thrown them out.

Mr. Kahn said he was not in a position to prove who had tampered with the ballots, which he produced in court together with the affidavits of over 100 residents who said they had enrolled on election day, but these ballots had been cast out by the election board.

Attorney Kahn said that the po-

Over 500 New Deal Tests Pending In Federal Courts of the Country

Hub of Contention in Many Cases is What Constitutes Interstate Commerce—Attorney General Cummings Looks for Settlement of Cases in Disposition of Judgment at Birmingham, Ala., and Expresses No Alarm Over Court Challenges to NIRA.

Washington, March 2 (AP)—More than 500 tests of New Deal legislation were reported today to be pending in the Federal courts of the country.

Department of Justice officials, promising to take all disputed statutes to the Supreme Court speedily "to find out what the law is," said that 258 of the pending cases involve the National Industrial Recovery Act. The hub of contention in many of these is, "What constitutes interstate commerce?"

Contending that manufacturing plants and business establishments are "the wells of commerce," the government has sought to regulate them under its constitutional power to control commerce between the states.

Two recent decisions on this point have gone against the administration. A Federal judge at Wilmington, Del., ruled that the collective bargaining clause of the Recovery Act was unconstitutional as applied to the Weirton Steel Company. He said the Constitution gave Congress no right to regulate manufacture. On the same day a Federal judge at Louisville, Ky., taking a similar view, granted an injunction against enforcement of a coal code.

Attorney General Cummings looks for the questions involved in both of these NRA set-backs to be settled by another case already pending in the Supreme Court. This is the government's appeal from the decision of the Federal court at Birmingham, Ala., that the NIRA and a lumber code established under it were unconstitutional. Cummings hopes the Wilmington and Louisville cases may be combined with the Birmingham litigation, which is to be argued before the Supreme Court next week.

Three other matters of importance to the Roosevelt administration are docked for consideration next month. The first of these is a "slum clearance" action started at Louisville, Ky. The Federal court there held that the government did not have the right to condemn four city blocks for which $1,628,000 in PWA funds had been made available.

Attorneys have asked the court for a ruling Monday in this case. The fate of 50 similar projects in 30 different cities may be affected by the decision. The precedent established might determine the extent of slum clearance work to be attempted in the President's proposed $4,000,000,000 work relief program.

Thousands of railroad workers are watching for a decision March 13 in another case before the high court. It is expected to decide the legality of the railroad pension act. Although this was not a New Deal measure it may provide a precedent for the administration's social security legislation.

Another case in the Supreme Court is a test of the retail motor code initiated by a New York auto corporation. The expiration date of the NIRA is June 16. By that time the high court may decide its legality. Regardless of the decision Congress may be able to shape new laws that will conform, administration leaders contend.

Attorney General Cummings has evidenced no alarm at court decision challenging the legality of New Deal moves.

"It all is part of the orderly American system," he said recently. "All we can do is move along until we reach a decision on all points."

GERMAN CONSUL GENERAL SIFTS KIDNAPING REPORT

New York, March 2 (AP)—Dr. Hans Borchers, German consul general, is investigating reports from the consul general in Boston which purport to give "additional information" about the Lindbergh kidnaping.

"I cannot disclose the nature of the information," he said yesterday, "and am in no position to say whether it is worth anything."

Reports from Boston were that two men had told the consul general that four persons plotted the kidnaping in that city. The Boston Post said a complete report had been sent to Reichsführer Hitler in Berlin. The newspaper said no more would be made in behalf of Bruno Hauptmann, convicted of the kidnaping, until after thorough investigation.

Edward J. Reilly, Hauptmann's chief of staff, remained in a hospital. An associate said he expected to be there another day or two, resting from an infected ankle.

Senate Opposition.

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Opposition was forming in the Senate today for a brick bat on the proposal for a $45,000,000 increase in army appropriations and expansion of the enlisted force to 345,000 men. The supply bill comes up in the Senate Monday. The Senate has always had a fair-sized bloc ready to attack increases in military appropriations, but the jump in the army bill this year has increased its strength, some members say.

Government Estimates Place Over 17,600,000 Persons on Federal Aid

Relief Administration Figures That 20 Million People are Dependent Upon Its Payments by Virtue of Three Groups.

FIGURES VARY

Government Accountants Estimate $25,000 Would Be Needed to Compile Exact Payrolls.

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Although exact information was unavailable, estimates in government quarters today indicated that persons on Federal payrolls last month or who had received payments by virtue of the FERA, AAA and PWA laws, exceeded 17,600,000.

These figures included those who received direct or work relief payments, but not their dependents. The relief administration has estimated that 20,000,000 are dependent upon it.

Half a dozen departments had the payroll data in part, and none was in position to put it together to the satisfaction of all the others.

Compilation of figures at the relief administration, Labor Department and the Civilian Conservation Corps showed checks went last month to 6,253,419 persons, as follows:

Work relief ..... 2,250,000
Direct relief ..... 2,750,000
Regular payrolls ..... 945,719
C. C. C. .... 398,700

In addition, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration had dispatched 11,075,107 checks to date, the Public Works Administration estimated 305,000 were employed at the sites of PWA projects in January and a government estimate of those employed then on projects resulting from direct congressional appropriation was 12,000. While those on PWA projects were not paid by the government, their wages were from the treasury—at least in part.

These latter figures totalled 11,392,107, which added to the 6,253,419 figure for a grand total of 17,645,526.

Government statisticians said the FERA, AAA, PWA figures could vary greatly from month to month.

The regular payroll figure was divided this way in February: 674,997 in the civil executive branch; 275,620 in the military-naval sections; 4,722 in the legislative and 1,280 in the judicial branch.

No one would estimate how many were in the $10,000-a-year or the $600-a-year brackets.

Several times it has been suggested Congress should order a payroll study but no appropriation resulted. Government accountants estimate they would need at least $25,000 to compile the exact payroll totals, break it into salary groups and have this available once a year.

Farley Charges To Get Study Monday

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Senator McKellar, chairman of the post-office committee, said today the committee in executive session Monday would consider the resolution and charges submitted against Postmaster General Farley by Senator Long (D-La.).

McKellar said no procedure had been planned, but that the committee would give consideration to all statements Long has referred to it.

Asked if Senator Long would be present at the meeting, McKellar said the Louisiana senator had "indicated a desire" to appear before the committee.

Long's office said the senator would return Monday to the capital from Louisiana.

McKellar said his committee would meet Monday afternoon.

U. S. Public Roads Bureau Wants a Slight Change in By-Pass Here

Street Must Be Concrete From Curb to Curb and the Curb on Each Side Also Must Be of Concrete.

NO DELAY

Mayor Says the New Order Is Not Expected to Cause Any Extended Delay.

An order sent through by the Troy office of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, Friday, has brought about an additional improvement for the East Chester street by-pass.

The street must be concreted from curb to curb and the curb on each side of the road, too, is to be of concrete instead of remaining as it is.

State Division Engineer Bixby of Poughkeepsie was notified of the modification yesterday and held a conference with Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman and City Engineer Henry Darrow.

The mayor today said that the new order is not expected to cause any extended delay and that present plans can be modified easily to meet the requirements of the government.

According to the original plan, there was to have been a strip of concrete down the middle of the road with a border of black stone four feet wide extending to the curb on each side. The present bluestone curbs were to be re-set.

The federal engineers disapproved of the bluestone, and ordered that all concrete must be used. This demand necessitated concrete curbs instead of the present bluestone ones to make a substantial job.

City Engineer Darrow is now working on the changes in the plans, which will affect the area from the old car barn, corner of Broadway and East Chester street, for a distance of 2,200 feet past Hemlock avenue.

The modification is considered as a big improvement over the first method of paving the highway and will give to the city of Kingston a much better thoroughfare with the expense carried by the national government.

It is understood that several of the curves in the road will be reduced to a greater degree, too, to lessen the possibility of accidents.

The all concrete road will add almost $10,000 to the cost of construction, it has been estimated, meaning that Kingston will have that much additional as an improvement.

Advertising of bids was to have started yesterday. It is assumed that this matter will not be held up any considerable length of time because of the government's order and that the state will be able to award the contract with little delay.

TERA workers are now engaged on East Chester street laying a water system and sewer. This job is progressing at a satisfactory rate. It is understood, and the road should be ready for surfacing when the time comes for the road builders to take up their work.

There may be a change in the proposed cut-off at Saugerties, too. It has been learned. A survey is being made to find out whether instead of starting the new road at the entrance of the village it would be feasible to start at the intersection of Flatbush road and Route 9-W, leaving the present highway a short distance north of that point, and building a new road which would go east of the railroad station at Saugerties and connect with 9-W a short distance above Cementon.

This means of travel would cut out the underground passages of the West Shore railroad, and if the cost is found to be less expensive than the other proposed project the change probably will be made.

Vice Drive Gains

New York, March 2 (AP)—New York's drive against the multi-million-dollar "numbers game" racket and vice forced ahead today with a police captain the first major target of investigators. Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine said departmental charges would be preferred against Captain George M. Rensselaer, commander of the Oak street station, in connection with the destruction of evidence against Henry Miro, an employee of Dutch Schultz, who has been described as head of the police racket.

Police officers were involved, Valentine said, but one has been died and the other has been fined.

Contraband Seized

Lille, France, March 2 (AP)—Police today seized a quantity of contraband arms including sub-machine guns being smuggled into France at the Belgian frontier. "Greatest importance" was attached to the seizure of nine sub-machine guns, a large automatic pistol, a repeating carbine and 4,700 cartridges by custom officials at Beldouze. It was pointed out the repeating guns were similar to the one used in the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia at Marseille.

Supervisors On Wednesday To Act On Loughran Reinstatement

Greek Warships, Planes At Odds in Revolt Today

Athens, Greece, March 2 (AP)—Five Greek warships manned by rebel officers were racing for the island of Crete today closely pursued by government aircraft and destroyers bent on quenching the last remnants of a sudden anti-government revolution.

After the recapture of Salamis arsenal from rebel forces, the city of Athens returned to normal life despite martial law aimed at suppression of a sudden revolutionary movement blamed by the government on supporters of General Nicholas Plastiras, dictator for a day during a revolt in 1933.

The pursuit of the fleeing warships was accompanied by artillery fire and aerial bombings which partially crippled the Cruiser Averoff, one of the craft manned by rebels.

Despite a direct hit the cruiser was steaming at 15 knots accompanied by the Cruiser Hell and three destroyers.

Seven bombing planes from Atol and four government destroyers formed the pursuit forces, while fortresses on the island of Crete were ordered to open fire on the rebels.

The fleeing craft were attempting to defend themselves, some of the aircraft which flew in pursuit of the rebel vessels returned showing signs of being well peppered with shot.

The former admirals in the Greek navy, Demostheas and Kiliakli, were reported in command of the rebel craft. They formerly had high records in the naval service but were subsequently expelled from the navy on charges of having taken part in previous anti-government plots.

Difficult Diplomacy Faces the President Over Social Security

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Another difficult arbitration job for President Roosevelt appeared to be in the making today.

It developed out of a disagreement as to who shall administer the social security program. Secretary Perkins has failed to sway the House ways and means committee from its insistence that the Labor Department should not have control over the program.

She paid a personal call on the committee chairman, Representative Doughton (D., N. C.) in an attempt to get the committee to reverse its previous decision that the social security board should be an independent agency and not under the secretary of labor.

After her visit, the committee declined to take a new, direct vote on the question. But a proposal that a single administrator instead of a board should be placed in charge of the security program was offered to the committee. The committee turned this down, insisting on a board.

One committee member argued that under the single administrator plan Miss Perkins might have been made "social security czar."

A high-ranking committee Democrat who declined to be quoted by name said Secretary Perkins had suggested that the committee discuss the problem with the President.

Chairman Doughton agreed, but today the White House conference had not yet been arranged.

When the committee does finally see the President, it intends to discuss with him reports that Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, objects to the committee's action in not voting to confer much broader power to the states than the President's cabinet contemplated originally. It also will discuss the change the committee made when it took jurisdiction over "needy" old-age pensions and aid from dependent children away from Hopkins and gave it to the Social Insurance Board.

Government Exceeded Income in 8 Months

Washington, March 2 (AP)—The government lived $2,449,923,225 beyond its income during the first eight months of the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

But at the close of business on February 28, this deficit was less than that for the comparable period last year when income was $2,352,170,229 behind expenditures.

Gross income for the eight months since July 1, was $2,677,000,400 ahead of last year.

Expenditures were $274,000,000 in excess of income.

General governmental costs for two-thirds of the fiscal year were $2,145,461,345 as compared with $1,828,614,465 last year. Outlays credited to emergency needs were $2,226,473,322 as against $2,411,564,615 a year ago.

The gross public debt on February 28 stood at $28,525,000,000, or about $2,500,000,000 higher than last year.

Chairman Markle of Board of Supervisors To Issue Call for a Special Meeting to be Held Wednesday Night at 7:30.

OTHER MATTERS

Rights of Way For Kingston By-Pass and Other Road Business Will Be Taken Up.

Chairman Markle of the board of supervisors was to issue a call today for a special meeting of the board to be held Wednesday night at 7:30.

The board will take action on the reinstatement of James F. Loughran as county superintendent of highways, from which position he was ousted April 27 last, following charges preferred by Tuthill McDowell, supervisor of the town of Wawarsing, alleging that Mr. Loughran had been guilty of malfeasance and misfeasance in the conduct of his office. Mr. Loughran was removed from office by a strict party vote, the 17 Democratic supervisors voting for dismissal and the 16 Republicans holding that the charges had not been sustained.

Attorney Harry H. Flemming took the case to the appellate division, which on November 15 last, handed down a decision, Justice Bliss alone dissenting, to the effect that the charges had been "improperly and illegally sustained by the county board and that they did not constitute malfeasance or misfeasance under the highway law," and ordered Mr. Loughran's reinstatement as county superintendent of highways.

The board, through its attorney, Arthur R. Ewig, thereupon carried the case to the court of appeals, and the latter on February 26, handed down an opinion affirming the decision of the appellate division in favor of Mr. Loughran. The decision of the court of appeals was unanimous, with Judge John T. Loughran of Kingston not voting.

The order of the court of appeals was received by Mr. Ewig late Thursday night.

In addition to taking action on the reinstatement of Mr. Loughran, the board of supervisors it is understood will take up other matters of business at the meeting Wednesday night, including rights of way for the new Kingston by-pass and other road business.

Maines Held For Grand Jury Action

Bernard Maines, who was arrested Friday by Patrolman Fred Stoudt for forgery, third degree, waived examination in city court this morning when arraigned before Judge Bernard A. Culliton and was held for the grand jury.

Maines, on parole from Dannemora state prison, is accused of forging the name of Charles Brodhead on a check which he used to pay a grocery bill at the store of Emanuel Manos, 21 Broadway, Thursday evening.

Entering the store early in the afternoon, Maines complimented Manos on progress he had made in remodeling his store and promised to do his trading with him. He told the merchant he had just returned from the south.

Later he ordered a bill of goods that amounted to $1, and offered a check of $10 in payment. Manos gave him $4 and asked him to return later for the balance as he was short of cash at the time.

Maines was told the check was no good Friday morning when he made his daily deposit in a downtown bank. He notified the police. Officer Stoudt arrested Maines at noon on a warrant issued by Judge Culliton on information furnished by Manos.

Maines was sent to jail this morning to await the action of the grand jury.

John Warner of Lucas avenue was fined $2 by the judge for passing a red traffic light at the corner of Broadway and Foxhall avenue, Friday morning. He was arrested by Patrolman Ernest Boss, doing duty in one of the police patrol cars.

King in Seclusion

King Prajadhipok of Siam remained in the seclusion of Knowle House today framing his formal abdication as ruler of Siam. It was believed he would have a formal draft ready for presentation to the government and the location here early next week.

There was no apparent reaction here to the latest advices from Bangkok, the king declining to comment on the report that he has pulled only five votes in parliament.

Training Schools For Scout Leaders

Because of the more or less "magnificent distances" between points in the Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts, it has been decided to hold training schools for Scout leaders at three places in the council territory this spring.

These schools were first held at Kingston and were well attended when weather permitted. Later schools were held at Kingston and in the Greene county district. Last year conferences in various communities were substituted, but they were found to be not so satisfactory, so the regular training schools will be taken up again this year, with sessions held in three different places.

For the Rondout Valley group a school will be held in the high school building at Ellenville. For the Kingston, Saugerties, southern and western districts the school will be held in the Municipal Auditorium at Kingston. The third school will be held at Hunter, accommodating those in the mountain and northern districts.

Five sessions will be held at each place, with a sixth session at Camp Half-Moon.

Dates for the various sessions have been fixed as follows:

Ellenville: March 16, 22, 29, April 4, 19.

Kingston: March 11, 18, 25, April 1, 8.

Hunter: March 12, 20, 27, April 3, 17.

The object of these schools is to train men for positions as scoutmasters and troop committeemen, but any who are interested in scout work will be cordially welcomed to the sessions. The schools are conducted by Scout Executive Wright and to those who have attended them in the past have been found very interesting and of great value to any, especially, who are connected with boys' work.

The program for the various sessions in all the schools will follow the same outline. Among subjects to be taken up and illustrated will be:

First Session. Organize school, form into patrols, choose leaders, etc. Tenderfoot requirements (part 1), how to start a troop, purpose of scouting, the ten-year program and how it can work, exhibit of books, supplies.

Second session. Rituals for opening and closing meetings, tenderfoot requirements (part 2), troop organization, troop morale builders, investiture ceremonies, troop officials and their duties.

Third Session. Second Class requirements (part 1), patrol methods and how they work, how to organize patrols, the patrol leaders council, inter patrol contests, second class standards, troop budgets, reading program.

Fourth session. Second Class requirements (part 2), objectives of scouting, building troop programs that work, troops records (their keeping and purpose), dropped scouts.

Fifth Session. First Class requirements and standards, troop committee service, troop boards of review and courts of honor, the scout uniform and its place and uses, the older boy program, good turns, civic service, merit badge activities.

The sixth session will be held at Camp Half-Moon and will be an overnight affair. Outdoor activities will be taken up at this session, including cooking, map-making, fire building, camping, water front activities, knife and hatchet, life saving, etc.

Advance registrations include 21 for the Ellenville school, 17 for Kingston and five for Hunter. The attendance will undoubtedly greatly exceed these early registration figures.

Elting Named On Committee

Albany, March 1 (Special).—At a meeting of the Republican state executive committee held in this city today Philip Elting, veteran Ulster county leader for the past 31 years, became a member of the party's legislative committee. Mr. Elting, who won a victory by his election to the Republican executive state committee last month when he was chosen by a 13-7 vote to represent the third judicial district which embraces seven counties, was appointed to membership on the sub-committee by the state chairman, Melvin C. Eaton. Mr. Eaton was not present, however, but in a letter to Mrs. Robert L. Bacon, vice chairman of the Republican state committee, made the request that Mr. Elting be so appointed. It was agreed at this time that this committee would probably not meet until after adjournment of the present legislature.

The meeting, which lasted more than two hours, was declared to have been conducted with complete harmony. This same factor was predominant in a meeting of county leaders early in January when the Republican party first took action to start its crusade with legislative matters and shape its line of procedure.

Discussion of public relations and finance took place, but attention was focused on how to win back the counties that voted Democratic last November for the first time, and consequently lost for the Republicans the 21-year control of the Assembly.

Heavy Snow Costs.

New York, March 2 (AP).—Removal of the heavy snowfall of January 23 cost New York $4,400,000. The department of sanitation, which had obtained $4,000,000 previously, got another $400,000 appropriation from the board of estimate yesterday to clean up the bill.

Dramatic Measures.

Havana, March 2 (AP).—Col. Fulgencio Batista, chief of the nation's armed forces, said today the government might be forced to resort to drastic measures to handle the island-wide movement for a general strike.

Plan for a full season of radishes this year. They are one of the earliest crops, and if you choose your varieties carefully, are one of the latest as well. Spring, summer, fall and winter radishes may be grown.

John Dunnigan, Majority Leader

JOHN P. DUNNIGAN.

By HOLLISTER STURGES, JR. Albany, Feb. 2 (Special).—Introducing Mr. Dunnigan.

For a score of years a member of the State Senate, John J. Dunnigan begins his twenty-first year in the upper house this current session. Only one member of this body eclipses his years of service, a Republican Senator from Locke, who holds the record as his membership dates back to 1909. A Democrat, representing the 23rd senatorial district of the Bronx, which is one of the most populous sections in the state, Mr. Dunnigan has earned for himself the high position of majority leader of his party and also that of temporary president. In the summer of 1932, upon the death of Bernard Downing, who was at that time Democratic whip of the Senate, Mr. Dunnigan became leader of his party, and has held this office ever since. When the Republican party lost control after 1932, the Senator was further elevated to majority leader, and it is in this capacity today that he steers his charges on legislative matters.

At one time Senator Dunnigan led the fight for subways in his section of the Bronx, and he succeeded so well with this and other improvements that proved to be of such benefit to residents of his district that many voters insisted upon his becoming a candidate for the State Senate. That his activities on behalf of the district have met with the acclaim and approval of so many residents is evidenced by the fact that many of those people who were most active in starting him in public life are still his staunchest supporters on election days. In normal years he is re-elected by pluralities of about 100,000.

Senator Dunnigan's leadership for his party on the Senate floor has been very effective. During his first term as majority leader he operated with only one vote to spare, and yet was successful in having passed many of the most progressive laws on the statute books. By profession he is an architect, but he is also one of the best debaters in the Senate, and is never found wanting when a bill is under discussion. He studies every piece of legislation introduced, and there are thousands of them.

During the years he battled for the programs of Governors Alfred E. Smith, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert H. Lehman, his name was attached to many vital and important pieces of legislation. His quality of fearlessness has won for him the friendship and respect of political opponents. Mentioned at times for high office in New York city, the Senator has held out for his preference of legislative work, which is the reason for his remaining in the Senate for so many years.

Often on Monday nights, when many ladies grace the galleries, he will open a repartee with some political adversary, and lend his wit to the occasion and succeed in causing a great deal of laughter and applause. In his serious vein, however, he works quickly and sees to it that plans get through as rapidly as safety will allow. Last summer during the extraordinary session he was so bent on getting the necessary work accomplished that he earned for the Senate the nickname of "Dunnigan's Night Club," for much of the work was conducted into the early hours of the morning.

Senator Dunnigan is married and has four children, two sons and two daughters.

Famine Conditions.

Hankow, Hupeh, China, March 2 (AP).—Famine conditions similar to those wreaking havoc among the populace of Anhwei were reported today to be developing in a wide area north of here. Because of last summer's drought, the present crops already have been consumed, and hundreds of farmers are pouring into Hankow, seeking food and shelter.

People can't figure out the stock market nowadays. And that's just as well. If they could they'd go ahead and lose what little they have left.

A Gentle Slope Is Best. Level land or land gently sloping to the south or southeast is the best selection for the city home garden. Drainage should be good but the land must not slope to the extent that it will wash under heavy rains. Ideal soil is dark sandy loam.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, March 2.—Mrs. Mary Ricks of Poughkeepsie is visiting her brother, Captain John Lynn of Hamilton street.

The play, "Look, Who's Here," presented by The Peeler's Dramatic Club in the Methodist Episcopal Church House on Friday evening, delighted every one present. All took their parts exceptionally well and the play caused much laughter from start to finish. A number of out of town people attended the play.

The Dorcas Society will hold a card party in the Reformed Church Hall on Thursday evening, March 14. There will be refreshments. The public is invited to attend.

Port Ewen Methodist Episcopal Church, "The Church of Cordial Welcome." The Rev. J. Thoburn Legg, pastor.—Sunday School at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. This will be a service for those who would make or renew their covenant with God. There will be no sermon other than that for the children. The congregation and minister will join in a ritual prepared for this purpose by John Wesley. This service just after the close of church month and just before the beginning of Lent gives a splendid opportunity for reconsecration to God. Let all of the church family join in this occasion. All others are cordially invited. At 6:15 p. m. the Epworth League will meet at the parsonage.

Port Ewen Reformed Church, "The Little White Church on the Hill," the Rev. Philip Goertz, pastor, Sunday School at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. The Rev. Emmet Shew of Kingston will preach. The Rev. Mr. Shew was once an active preacher in the Esopus Methodist Episcopal Church at Esopus, and is now a retired pastor living in Kingston. Intermediate Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p. m. In the church. Senior Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p. m., at the parsonage. Evening worship at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor invited the congregation to participate in this rededication service. Theme, "Christian Comradeship." At 6 o'clock Monday evening a supper will be served in the church house, at the close of which, Clarence H. Holliman, M. D., the returned medical missionary from China, will speak. He was in charge of the Fagg Memorial Hospital at Leng-na, Fukien Province. In later years he has been in charge of the Hope and Wilhelm hospitals at Amoy. There is no doubt that he has an interesting message to give. The public is cordially invited. A nominal fee, to cover the expense of the supper, will be charged. The menu is as follows: Boiled ham, scalloped potatoes, baked beans, cabbage salad, biscuit,

Saturday Social Review

So great was the success of the play "Big Hearted Herbert," held on February 15 by the members of the Senior Class of Kingston High School that the performance will be repeated Tuesday evening, March 5. The play will again be held at the high school auditorium and since there will be no reserved seats, a nominal fee will be charged. This second performance is being given under the auspices of the school Dramatic Association and the proceeds will be used to purchase necessary stage equipment. More than ordinary acting ability was revealed by the performance two weeks ago, so that those who missed the play at that time should not fail to avail themselves of this new opportunity. "Big Hearted Herbert," which is based on the story "Chin Chin," by Sophie Kerr, is a play packed with clever and amusing lines and tensely dramatic situations.

The play is being directed by Miss Madeline Tarrant and the following members of the Senior Class will take part: Robert Kaines, Earl Banks; Elizabeth Kaines, Miss Banks; Silverman; Martha, Miss Shirley Ward; Herbert Kaines, Jr.; Daniel Pelham; Alice Kaines, Miss Martha Cross; Andrew Goodrich; James Martin; Amy Lawrence, Miss Alice Darrow; Jim Lawrence, Francis Schilling; Mr. Goodrich, Robert Chambers; Mrs. Goodrich, Miss Mary McManus; Mr. Havins, Donald Finley; Mrs. Havins, Miss Katherine Bushnell. This is the first time that it has ever been necessary to repeat a senior play in order to accommodate all who wished to see it.

The Kingston Choristers will hold another regular rehearsal for "Eljah" next Tuesday evening. Harry P. Dodge, director, announces that this will be the last rehearsal at which new voices may join the chorus.

The Junior League will meet Monday afternoon, March 4, with Miss Elizabeth Terry at her home, 277 Albany avenue, at 2:30 o'clock.

The Whitlock Chapter, D. A. R., will hold a meeting Thursday afternoon, February 7, at the chapter room. At this time the members from New Paltz will furnish the entertainment. Miss Elizabeth Farrow will read a paper on "Steps Toward Peace," while Mrs. Arthur Kurtz, Mrs. Judson Schoonmaker and Mrs. Fred Dressel will give a group of vocal solos. They will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. D. C. Seward. Mrs. Charles Terwilliger and Mrs. Richard H. D. Boeker will act as hostesses.

At the supper meeting of the Business Girls' Club held on Wednesday evening Miss Agnes Scott Smith briefly reviewed for those who were assembled two current Broadway productions, "Laburnum Grove" and "Escape Me Never." At this coming Wednesday's meeting the Rev. Frank B. Seely, D. D., will be the speaker.

The regular monthly meeting of the Schoolwomen's Club will be held Monday evening, March 4, at the library of the high school. There is much important business to be transacted at this time. The meeting in April will be addressed by Surrogate Kaufman, who will discuss "Reasons for and Procedure of Making Wills."

On March 8 the Live Y-er Club, composed of high school freshmen, will hold a picnic supper at the Y. W. C. A. Arrangements are in charge of Miss Jean Du Bois and Miss Emily Cragin.

Mrs. Kurt Wassen, as secretary, conducted the business session of the Young Married Women's Club, which held its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon of this week. Later Mrs. Wassen turned the meeting over to Mrs. Charles Arnold and Mrs. Ward Brigham, the committee in charge of the round table discussion program. In connection with this program Mrs. Clyde Hutton discussed the crime situation. Mrs. Conrad Heiselman, who had home here in the city, Mrs. Harry Goldsmith, who edits the letter magazine for Central Hudson, publicity. Mrs. Ray Everett, who was to have explained the proposed changes in the city charter, announced that she felt inadequately prepared to discuss this question and that Matthew V. Cahill, corporation counsel for the city, would speak for her. Later tea was served by Mrs. Ray Craft and Mrs. Eugene Freer.

The third of the lectures sponsored by this club has been postponed until March 21. At this time Mrs. Laura Maples McMullen will give the address. She is widely known throughout the United States as a writer and lecturer. The postponement of the lecture is necessitated by the fact that Mrs. McMullen is at present on tour in the middle west and has had to delay her return east because of crowded engagements. Mrs. McMullen is not new to Kingston audiences since many heard her speak at the federation luncheon several years ago.

One of the much lauded features of the Washington's Birthday Ball held last week under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 7, was the entertainment given by Paul Yocan and a group of pupils from his dance studio. Mr. Yocan and his students presented seven numbers. The first of these was a Modern Ballroom Waltz by Mr. Yocan and Miss Ruth Seidel, assisted by Miss Betty Rae Seidel. The beautiful ensemble was originally designed by Mr. Yocan. Miss Rosalie Spatcher, who was his partner on the K-K-O circuit and in New York city, and who is now a member of the ballet in Radio City Music Hall, Miss Ruth Seidel and Miss Audrey Seidel, assisted with technique and direction. The dance was given by George Savatry, Jr., Miss Marion Obenhaus and Billy Smith. Louise Schlesinger displayed unusual ability in a juvenile tap solo number and Miss Betty Rae Seidel gave a beautiful Spanish style dance. A classical waltz tap, in which the Misses Isabel Wood, Mathilda Garber, Constance Savatry, Audrey Shukis, Ruth Deyo and Louise Schlesinger wore the attractive uniform practice costume of the Yocan Studio of Dance, showed much training. The concluding dance, a syncopated rhythm tap by Mr. Yocan and Miss Edna Renn, was a difficult and much appreciated number. In his final bow Mr. Yocan carried tiny Louise Schlesinger perched on one arm and Ruth Deyo on the other.

The queen of the ice carnival held last Friday, February 22 by the city of Syracuse in connection with the New York State Ice Skating Championship was Miss Catherine Byrne of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Byrne of Elmendorf street. The honor was conferred upon Miss Byrne by the city of Syracuse and together with John Berry of Syracuse, she was crowned by Mayor Roland B. Martin. The grand march and the coronation of Miss Byrne and Mr. Berry opened the state skating championship and intercollegiate meet which was held at the State Fair Coliseum. Miss Byrne who is a member of the senior class at Syracuse University, belongs to Phi Beta Kappa society. Mr. Berry is a member of the Junior class at Syracuse. In 1921, Miss Byrne was chosen May Queen by the Senior Class of Kingston High School.

Early Spring Nuptials Join Miss J. C. Story, Richard C. Gendreau

A very simple early spring wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Story of Ulster Park this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when their elder daughter, Janet Cornelia, became the bride of Richard Charles Gendreau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gendreau of Rochester, N. Y.

The ceremony, which took place in an alcove formed by palms, pussy willows and spring flowers, was performed by the Rev. Reller D. Van Wagenen, pastor of the Reformed Dutch Church of Interlaken, N. Y., a cousin of the bride. The bride was gowned in blue crepe with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and forget-me-nots. She was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Thomas Mott Fraser of Port Washington, L. I., as matron of honor. Mrs. Fraser also wore blue and carried delphiniums. The bride's sister, Miss Mabel R. Story, and cousin, Miss Ora Kappes, of Brooklyn, acted as maids of honor. They were dressed in pink and carried rose colored sweet peas. The groom was attended by William Cross of Rochester as best man. The wedding was attended by only the members of the immediate families and was a quiet affair owing to the recent death of the bride's uncle.

Immediately after a wedding luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Gendreau left for a short wedding trip. They will reside in New York city where Mr. Gendreau holds a position as an electrical engineer and the bride is connected with the New York Hospital and Cornell Medical Center.

In recognition of their outstanding achievement in the Better Homes Campaign for 1934, the Ulster County Home Bureau has been granted a merit award by the Board of Directors, of which Executive Herbert Hoover and Ray Lyman Wilbur are nationally known figures. In connection with this campaign the local Home Bureau conducted a tour in June at which time some 130 home makers were given the opportunity of visiting model kitchens. As a result many of these women were able to make specific improvements in their own homes which for a minimum cost greatly lessened the drudgery of household duties. One Ulster county woman has estimated that remodeling work costing $12.00 saves her at least 30 minutes each day. This means 15½ twelve hour working days in a year; something over two full weeks.

Miss Virginia Mullen returned to the College of St. Vincent last Sunday after spending the week-end with her aunt, Miss Margaret Mullen, of Washington avenue.

On Tuesday evening of this week Mrs. Frederick Gronemeyer of Lucas avenue was hostess to her card club.

The Saturday Evening Post is now continuing its series of "Tug Boat Annie" stories, so popular several years ago. Auto Otto Fischer of this city is illustrating the new issue of these famous tales.

Mrs. Lillian G. MacLaughlin left last week for New York city where she was the guest of her sons, Harry Rudington MacLaughlin, of New York city and Pleasantville, N. Y., and A. William MacLaughlin, who has been stopping at the Piccadilly Hotel for several weeks working for the state. She also visited her daughter in Brooklyn.

Mrs. M. Sangaline, 315 East Chestnut street, gave a farewell party for her son, Edward last Friday, February 22. Edward has been home from Hawaii since Thanksgiving time and recently reenlisted in the U. S. Army. He will sail for Panama on March 12. Those present at the party were members of the family, Bob Hart and Jim Delecco.

Residents of Kingston and vicinity, who will take advantage of the southern sunshine to vacation now while the north is still in the grip of winter, according to listings at the Greenwald Travel Service, 286 Fair street, are as follows:

Mrs. Richard Longman and daughter, Mrs. Frank Lowery of Athens and Miss Genevieve Birmingham of the Mode Beauty Parlor, Fair street, sail this afternoon on the George of the Cunard White Star Line for a 14-day West Indian cruise.

Miss Ellen Lundstrum of 61 Wall street leaves New York on the S. S. Shawnee of the Clyde Mallory Line for Jacksonville, Fla.

Mrs. Louisa Salvione and Mrs. Emile Amodeo of Glascow are on their way to Naples, Italy, having sailed from New York on Wednesday.

The marriage of Gertrude Walker, daughter of Mrs. Andrew Walker, of this city, and the late Mr. Walker, to Donald Dewey Heasley of Wappingers Falls and Poughkeepsie, took place Saturday afternoon, February 23, at 4 o'clock at the Livingston Street Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Karl Schleede, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of Schenectady, and visiting clergyman at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, cousin of Miss Walker, officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Walker was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, George E. Yerry, Jr., of Wappingers Falls, N. Y. The bride wore a gown of ivory colored satin of princess design, with a long-court train, and carried a bouquet of gardenias and white frezias. Her veil of tulle was arranged in cap shape.

Mrs. George E. Yerry, Jr., the former Hilda S. Walker, was matron of honor and Miss Eleanor O'Connor of this city, was maid of honor.

Mrs. Yerry wore a gown of rainbow chiffon, shading from pale pink to flame color, and Miss O'Connor wore a gown of pale pink starched chiffon. They carried bouquets of pink and flame colored sweet peas.

Winford Scott Beasley of Wappingers Falls was the best man, and the ushers were J. Wilbur Townson of New York city and Silver Bay, Lake George, and T. Donald Conklin of Beacon.

A reception for the immediate families and the bridal party was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. After a wedding trip to Lake Placid, Mr. and Mrs. Beasley will reside at Hughsonville, New York.

Miss Walker was graduated from Kingston High School and the Bellevue School of Nursing, New York city. She was formerly public health nurse for the town of Wappingers Falls, Dutchess county. During the past year she has been engaged in social service work in New York city.

Mr. Beasley, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beasley, of Woonsocket, R. I., was graduated from the Rhode Island State College, class of '20. He served in the World War and is a member of the American Legion. He is secretary of the Dutchess County Realty Board, a member of the Dutchess County Country Club, and is a real estate and insurance broker, with offices in Poughkeepsie and Wappingers Falls.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Basil Potter, Mr. and Mrs. John Romulus, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kukuk, Mr. and Mrs. James Locke, Mr. and Mrs. Blanford Rabele, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Millong, Jr., are entertaining at a progressive dinner at their homes.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

CLAUDE E. JACOB

New York, March 2 (AP).—The stock market was notably calm today in the face of another slump in sterling and a jump in London gold and silver prices. Even the metals lost their buoyant tone of the previous session and were only moderately higher. Fluctuations elsewhere were generally narrow. The close was somewhat irregular. Transfers approximated 260,000 shares.

The pound dropped some 3 cents to around $4.78, the lowest level since October 1933. At the same time the British gold rate was lifted 1/2 pence to 146 shillings 10 1/2 pence, an ounce (equivalent to $35.37), a new record peak. The English spot silver price also shot up to 27 pence an ounce, the highest since October, 1928. In New York silver was hoisted 1 cent to 57 1/2 cents an ounce, also a new top in nearly seven years. European gold currencies naturally exhibited strength against the pound and dollar.

There were scattered share gainers of substantial amounts. Colombian Carbon got up more than 3 and American Crystal Sugar Preferred stepped up 2. Among others, fractionally to around a point, better were Homestake, Cerro de Pasco, American Smelting, Howe Sound, American Sugar Refining, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse and General Electric. Losers of as much were included Liggett & Myers "B," Coca-Cola, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Chrysler, American Can, Bethlehem Steel, Consolidated Gas and Western Union. Such issues as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, General Motors and National Distillers were virtually unchanged.

Quotations given by Parker, McElroy & Co., members, N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York city; branch office, 252 Wall street.

Liquid Air Demonstration

On Thursday afternoon a special assembly of physics and chemistry students was called in the high school auditorium. Richard Whiston, of the science department, introduced Prof. Paul C. Saunders, of Alfred College, who demonstrated in a very vivid manner the properties of liquid air.

Prof. Saunders first explained to the students the process by which liquid air was obtained. Air must be reduced, first, to its critical temperature, above which it cannot be liquefied. Pressure is then applied, and by a combination of condensation and cooling, air is liquefied at an extremely low temperature. Just how cold this liquid was, Prof. Saunders demonstrated by pouring some into an open vessel. The great contrast between the temperature of the liquid and the air produced a hissing sound, and great clouds of fumes as the liquid rapidly vaporized. Upon being poured out, liquid air boils almost immediately.

Although it was boiling, Prof. Saunders was forced to wear heavy gloves in handling it. He explained that the liquid was so cold that it burned, producing severe blisters on the skin. He then took a box of ordinary strawberries and dropped them into a container of liquid air. In a few seconds' time, he took them out, frozen so hard a hammer was necessary to break them. A rubber sponge ball was treated in the same manner, and when thrown down, broke into a number of brittle fragments. Prof. Saunders then "cooked" an egg, which, when removed after a few seconds, was hard and brittle. He explained that these things, when exposed to air, soon returned to their normal state, a fact which several people who attempted to carry the apparently frozen eggs around in their pockets had learned to their regret.

The speaker's most startling experiment was the "mercury hammer." He immersed a penny match box, with a match stick stuck upright in the cover, in a container of liquid mercury. He then poured in liquid air, and in a few minutes, by peeling the box away from the frozen mercury, he had a mercury "hammer," which he used to drive several nails. By means of liquid air, the professor froze a fish, and then returned him to water, where he swam about apparently unharmed.

Prof. Saunders threw some of the liquid onto the stage and, immersing a rag in the liquid until it was dripping wet, tossed it into the audience. Before striking the floor, the rag was completely dry, owing to the rapid change of liquid air to its ordinary state. This, explained the speaker, liberated a large quantity of pure oxygen, greatly purifying the air.

He then demonstrated the remarkable powers of the fluid to support combustion. Materials which were burning slowly in air, when held in the evaporating fumes of the liquid oxygen, burst into flames. It was explained that when air is liquefied, the nitrogen passed off first, leaving pure liquid oxygen, which has a number of commercial uses. It is often carried, the professor said, on high altitude flights, where it was liberated to replenish the oxygen in the atmosphere. In neon tube lighting liquid oxygen is also used.

H-I-Y Conference

Last Friday a group of high school boys and girls and their advisors traveled to a Washington's Day H-I-Y conference in Central Valley. The group assembled in the auditorium of the Central Valley High School. In the morning session they were addressed by Dr. G. G. Deever, head of the Department of Physical Education of New York University. Deever, who has had wide experience with athletes, explained several factors which go into the making of an athlete, and spoke of the effects of alcohol and tobacco on one's health. He explained several popular superstitions about necessities to health, and gave his opinion about necessary rules of health. Following his talk, Dr. Deever conducted a forum during which those who attended asked him questions relating to this talk.

Following a luncheon which was held in the high school, Professor W. J. Reagan, of the Oakwood School, of Poughkeepsie, spoke on personal and religious problems, and ways of dealing with them. He also led a discussion following his talk.

From 3 until 6 o'clock the guests enjoyed a tea dance in the high school auditorium. Curtis Mitchell, editor of "Radio Stars" magazine, and explorer and adventurer, spoke on the topic, "Adventurous Youth—What Next." He gave several of his personal experiences in a highly entertaining manner.

Report Cards

The report card period, which is the first one of this semester, will close on March 15, instead of the originally scheduled date of March 8.

Gratuities Awarded

Washington, March 2 (AP).—Struggling farmers in the $4,880,000,000 relief bill were dispute settled today to await "real" concessions after three days of secret negotiating and a White House conference had failed to break the deadlock. Meanwhile the Washington Post said a settlement over alleged use of a public works "kick" to force votes in the Ohio case. The bill is being voted on Capitol Hill. The bill, which the paper said, is not expected to be passed before the March 15 deadline, which is opposed by the administration. It was said to have spread among legislators who contend that the bill is being brought to bear to effect an administration victory.

Those present were Rachel Cauntitz, Junior Haggerty, Marion Tongue, Alberta Markie, Deborah Cauntitz, Bruce Hinkley, Chester Dolson, Richard Wagner, Jimmy Main, Marcella Haggerty, Barbara Tongue, Doris Wagner and Junior Osterhoudt. Prizes were won by Marion Tongue and Chester Dolson. Delicious refreshments were served and Junior was the recipient of many pretty gifts.

K. of C. Ball Was A Great Success

Approximately 1,000 attended the 16th annual charity ball of Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, at the Municipal Auditorium Friday night, enjoying the fine bill of entertainment and the music of two Kingston orchestras, that of John P. Erne and Robert Steuding.

Opening the program with Johnny O'Brien, New York tenor, as master of ceremonies, were numbers put on by pupils of Miss Helen Cashin's dance school. They did the stair dance, featuring the Misses Charlotte Norton, Charlotte Havlin and Leola Saddlemyre. Janice Denike executed an intricate acrobatic dance and Jane Ball offered a waltz rhythm and buck dance. Closing the appearance of the Cashin pupils was a semaphoric dance by the Misses Mary Phelan, Cornelia Roe, Leola Saddlemyre, Charlotte Norton and Charlotte Havlin.

Then the professional entertainers took the floor. The Stevens sisters did well with eccentric dances and novelty imitations, Charles and Catherine Jey featured in dance numbers, the Balzer sisters offered an adagio act, the only one featuring two girls. Grant and Rosalie did a travesty on the European waltz, Arthur Rogers sang several popular numbers, Takayama, Japanese top spinner, did some intricate tricks and Johnny O'Brien closed the show singing several old Irish ballads.

Search for Woman

Choma, Northern Rhodesia, March 2 (AP).—Hundreds of native police armed with torches plunged through the dense lion-infested bush country until dawn today, fruitfully searching for Margaret, Lady Young, and Dr. J. Kirby, forced down in their airplane. Lady Young, is the wife of Northern Rhodesia's governor. Motor searching parties set out at daybreak, led by the young husband of the aviatrix. Sir Hubert Young, scores of railroad employees, reinforced by 200 natives, deployed in fanshape through the wild region where the crash is believed to have occurred. Lady Young and Kirby took off from Livingston for Lusaka, 300 miles away, Thursday. The governor's wife was convalescing from an attack of influenza. The plane apparently was forced down after the takeoff because the trip could have been completed in about three hours.

Rintelen Stands Trial

Vienna, March 2 (AP).—King Anton Rintelen, former Austrian minister to Rome, pleaded not guilty today to charges of complicity in the putsch last July which was to have made him chancellor. The prosecuting attorney described Rintelen, who looked very old and frail, as an extraordinarily clever and cautious intriguer who, however, fell victim to his own excessive caution. "He hesitated till he was lost," the lawyer said. "He hesitated to show his loyalty to the government when the federal chancellor was occupied by the putschers was cited as important evidence against Rintelen."

Simon to Berlin

London, March 2 (AP).—The foreign office announced today Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, would go to Berlin by plane Thursday, March 7, for consultations with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and members of the German government. He will return to London March 10. In informed quarters it was learned that proposals for Sir John's visit to Warsaw and Moscow still are under consideration and that a decision to return from Berlin to report and consult with the cabinet will not prejudice a decision regarding these other visits.

Saarlanders Settle Down

Saarbruecken, Germany, March 2 (AP).—Nazi Germany settled down to the huge task of fulfilling promises to new countrymen in the Saar basin today as the Saarlanders, wild with joy at Adolf Hitler's surprise visit, emerged from the beer halls to a new day.

NEW YORKERS MOVE TO ESCAPE TAXES

Many Prominent Families Migrate to Rhode Island.

New York.—Faced with the prospect of increased state taxation, some of New York's wealthiest and most prominent families are reported to be migrating to Rhode Island, which has no state income tax and a comparatively low personal property tax.

The exodus was said to have been given impetus when Gov. Herbert H. Lehman announced a proposed tax levy of 7 per cent on income exceeding $50,000. Since Rhode Island asks only $4 on $10,000 of personal property, families which have been in New York for as long as 300 years have prepared to establish residence in the New England state.

Among those who have moved to Rhode Island—some already had summer estates there—are Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Sands, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goelitz, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Foraythe Wickes, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Rogers, Mrs. Morris De Pyster and Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Williams. Most of them declined, when questioned, to say why they moved.

The Sands family has been among the foremost in New York since before 1820, while more than a century ago the foundation of the immense Goelitz fortune was laid here. Robert is a New York banker. Whitehouse is descended from the family which came to New York before 1600. Williams is a railroad official and Wickes an attorney.

The migration first was noticed last election day, when several social figures went up to Newport to vote for the first time there.

England to Hold Royal Jubilee Celebrations

London.—Visitors to London this year should time their holidays for May or June, for in those months not only is the season at its height, but England will be gay with royal jubilee celebrations.

May 6, the twenty-fifth anniversary of King George's accession to the throne, a chain of beacon fires will illuminate the length and breadth of the country.

Because of the jubilee celebrations, in May, the first two courts of the season will take place in March, while the third and fourth courts will be held as usual in June. In June also will be the Derby and Ascot race meetings; the Wimbledon lawn tennis championships; the international horse show; the Aldershot Tattoo and the Hendon air pageant, which the king hopes to attend in person this year.

In May there will be the naval and military tournament at Olympia; the opening of the Royal academy summer exhibition, and jubilee celebrations in every district. During both months there will be a number of big charity balls.

"Hot" Grapefruit Rival of "Hot" Oil in Texas

Mercedes, Texas.—"Hot" grapefruit may soon be as great a problem to Texans as "hot" oil.

I. V. O. Swarthout, Texas citrus coordinator, has put into effect a prohibition order limiting shipments of grapefruit from this state. The order was authorized by the Texas citrus committee, and is designed to prevent speculation in grapefruit in produce centers and to create a uniform price during the entire season.

Certificates have been issued to growers in the Rio Grande valley, and as is the case with oil, producers must receive a "tender" before they can ship their fruit.

Penalties for violation of the prohibition orders are so heavy that it is believed there will not be much "hot" grapefruit running.

Biologist Makes 5 Year Study of Fish in Texas

Houston, Texas.—Albert Collier, biologist at Rice Institute, has completed a five-year study of salt and fresh water fish in this region. His survey revealed more than 100 salt water and 25 fresh water species. The red fish family, with includes the croaker, drum, sand trout, spotted trout, and the spot fish, is the largest of the salt water variety, while the bass species are the most prevalent of fresh water fish.

Can't Kick About Cows

London, Ohio.—Londons are sleeping undisturbed by nightly bovine noises now. A city council ordinance has been amended to forbid the keeping of bawling cows and calves under three months old in sales barns overnight.

Potatoes Replace Torpedoes on Sub

Amsterdam.—Potatoes and onions—not torpedoes—are stored in the tubes of the Dutch submarine K-38 now on a 2300-mile trip from Holland to Scandinavia, Java.

The trip will be the longest ever made by a submarine, and will take eight months.

When questions were asked about the 200-ton craft at Nieuwedijk, Holland, it was found that there wasn't enough room. The commander then decided it was better to leave two torpedoes at home, rather than boxes of potatoes and onions.

Falls to Win 200 Miles an Hour
Jackson Beach Speedway, Fla., March 2 (AP).—Sir Malcolm Campbell failed to hit 200 miles an hour on his south coast run down the beach today as he resumed his efforts to break his own 272.146 mile an hour automobile speed record. His time through the measured mile was 1:35.186 miles an hour.

Justice Holmes Takes Turn For Worse Today

Washington, March 2 (AP).—Oliver Wendell Holmes, former Supreme Court justice, was examined by his physician shortly after noon today and found to have taken a slight turn for the worse in his battle against bronchial pneumonia.

"There is no cause for alarm," Mark Howe, former secretary to the justice, told reporters after Dr. Thomas A. Clayton, and an associate physician, left the residence.

"Mr. Holmes is a little weaker, he does not seem as lively now," Howe declared.

"He is taking oxygen all the time and has been for couple days. I don't think any digitalis is being administered."

Howe said that Chief Justice Hughes who headed the calling list today had not seen his former colleague personally.

"No one is seeing him," Howe said.

"There may be a shift any minute for the better," Howe added.

Rude Rural Rarities Was Largely Attended

The third annual production of Rude Rural Rarities was presented last evening by the Ulster County Kappa Zeta and Holstein Clubs, at the New Paltz High School. This entertainment was attended by over 400 interested members, friends and others interested in a thorough good time.

The entertainment was entitled, "Aboard the Good Ship Lolly Pop," but due to the absence of Millard Davis, captain, it was a crew without a head. Command, however, was assumed by Worst Mate Albert Kurdt. Paul Zucca and his orchestra gave a group of opening selections. Next the Misses Anna Thorpe, Ruby Thorpe, Mildred Thorpe and Gertrude Shiller, all of Bloomington, gave a dance number entitled, "The Night Watch."

Mrs. Harold Dullons of New Paltz and Miss Marion Dubois of Gardiner, then sang as duets, "One Night of Love" and "Isle of Capri." They were accompanied at the piano by Daniel Bittner. A most amusing skit, "Aunt Letty and the Old Stock," was given by Miss Frances Roosa and Fred Dubois, Jr., both of New Paltz. The Blue Ridge Rangers, popular Hill-Billy orchestra, then gave a group of selections, playing among other numbers, "Turkey in the Straw" and "When Laurel is in Bloom."

A humorous short play entitled, "Deep Sea Fishing," was next given by Fred Dressel of New Paltz, F. Wendall Knapp, of Kingston, Louis Gilbert of Saugerties and William J. King of Kingston. This was followed by three dance and novelty numbers by the pupils of Mrs. Emilla Ricebome Weyl's School of Dancing. "Our Own Jean Harlow," interpreted by Miss Charlotte Zalfert, "Modernistic Toe Dance," by Miss Marion Britt and "The Continental," by Miss Frieda Kaplowitz. A novelty number by the orchestra preceded the hit number of the evening, the world renowned ballad, as it was announced, "The Dying Swan."

The part of the swan was played by Carl W. Peters, who, the program announced, had trained himself. The members of this excitingly costumed ballet were Dr. James Crandall of Saugerties, Theodore Lasher, Arthur W. Kurtz, Andrew Deyo, Harold DuBois, Vincent Lyons, Schuyler Millham and Donald Deyo, all of New Paltz. Jesse Lyons of Stone Ridge and Abram Parades of Gardiner. Then there were "More Songs You Like" by the Blue Ridge Rangers, a slight of hand performance, "Magic That's New," Fred Van Deuren, a "Buck and Wing" dance by Miss Ruth Britt, an acrobatic performance by Spaulding and Murphy. The entire cast participated in the finale. For the remainder of the evening the audience danced, music being furnished by Paul Zucca and his orchestra.

Those arranging for this program were, general committee, Albert Kurdt, Dr. James Crandall and Harold DuBois; stage, Schuyler Millham, Arthur Kurdt, Vincent Lyons, Fred Dressel and William J. Clark; ushers, R. D. Borehading, Jesse Roosa, George Langwick, Andrew Deyo and John Schoonmaker; check room, Frank Elliott and Donald Deyo and tickets, Dr. James Crandall, B. H. Decker, Jesse Deyo and Theodore Lasher.

Fashions and Household Hints for Women

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Fashion asks admiringly—
is it an evening gown or nightgown?
Liana Merwin

Nightgowns of late have been stepping into the "evening" gown class—and they are so gorgeous that the question arises as to whether or not they are too elaborate to sleep in or should be used for that hour or so of relaxation and lounging in the boudoir.

Some new models show long, flowing sleeves, drapery sashes and colored bodices; others are sleeveless and boast the finest type of handwork, lace, petit point, tucks and ruffled treatments. Above at right is sketched a gown of Regency influence fashioned of lilac-tinted crepe-back satin. The semi-Regency neckline and dainty petit point embroidery are noteworthy trimming touches.

The figure at left reclines in a gown of crepe back satin in beige ecru color with a square front neckline, fine collared embroidery and three silk frogs on bodice. Both models have a low back line.

Model Kitchen Saves Wrinkles

Ithaca, N. Y., March 2—"A model kitchen need not look like a magazine picture nor be expensive," says Ella Cushman of the New York state college of home economics.

"The kitchen should be so planned that the work can be done easily and conveniently under pleasant conditions."

Every kitchen should help the family to develop happily, with a place where children may help with the work, and where the husband will not feel in the way at any time, she says.

Work is most efficient and comfortable when the working equipment, such as sink, tables and drain boards, is at the right heights; when windows can be lowered from the top to give good ventilation; when artificial lights are adequate, with drop light over the sink and stove if possible; when the amount of travel over the kitchen floor is lessened; when a kitchen is bright instead of dark; and when careful planning prevents confusion. To create such a kitchen, various arrangements of equipment may have to be tried until the best is found.

Low Hat Crowns To Be Offered

Ithaca, N. Y., March 2—"Before an old hat is remodeled, study the styles to see how much it needs change," urges Gladys L. Butt of the New York state college of home economics.

"A woman may look at hats in shop windows, in fashion magazines, and in newspaper advertisements to learn both the prevailing styles and the one that most becomes her."

"This year's crowns will be low. Sallies, turbans and poke bonnets will appear this spring along with other variations of brim, and every woman should choose the style particularly suited to her. A poke bonnet that turns up in front, for example, makes more prominent a receding chin, wrinkles in the face, or the wearing of glasses, whereas a sailor hat with a brim turned up all around exaggerates a tilted nose."

Mrs. Butt says that the trimming on the hat is determined both by the individual's features and size, and by the costume with which the hat is to be worn.

"This year, trimmings will have touches of color that will contrast strongly with the dress or coat. Tailored ribbon arrangements and quills are used on the early spring hats. Flowers will appear on hats for early summer."

Lollipops And Mother-of-Pearl Moons Button Afternoon Frocks Frivolously

Navy blue crinkled taffeta woven with a white pin stripe makes this crisp tulleur which Dilkusha designs for spring afternoons. It is finished with a little fluted collar and tail and worn with a blouse of white shirred net trimmed in edgings of Valenciennes lace and fastened at the neckline with a mother of pearl moon up cuff hem.

Paris (AP)—Flower and lollipop buttons walked onto the 1935 style set as something new in frock fastenings when Dilkusha (the Princess de Rohan) displayed her new collection. Made of unbreakable glass in soft, fluted primrose shapes or vivid blobs the color and shape of a luscious lollipop, they added a frivolous springtime touch to afternoon frocks. Mother of pearl hairpins—as big as the one grandmother used to thrust in the top of her coil of white hair—were used to fasten the neckline of collarless coats, while mother of pearl moons buttoned dresses. Rama belts and accessories in bright multicolored effects added other colorful notes to the collection.

Flower Trimmed Hats
Both black and colorful shades appeared in the afternoon mode shown with a number of little flower trimmed hats. One frock of black elasticized silk designed with the big bishop sleeves characteristic of this season, was finished with a wide crushed patent leather belt and worn with a little bellboy toque of black straw trimmed with white camellias. A rich blue wool crepe dress topped by a mauve three-quarter length cape was accompanied by a little brimmed chapeau of blue straw with rose, mauve and blue flowers massed in the front.

Sevres prints—so named because their colors suggested the rich tints of Sevres china—fashioned a number of afternoon frocks often designed with ruffled effects on the bodice. One of the most striking was a two piece model of blue green crepe splashed with cyclamen rose figures and designed with a turned up cuff hem.

Breakfast Table Colors
Gingerbread brown, ginger, honey and toast were the names of hues the designer selected for the daytime color card; homespun, elasticized wools and linens the fabrics she chose. A divided skirt of ginger wool was accompanied by a honey colored wool jacket and a ginger and honey striped wool blouse tied with a turquoise tie. A toast colored homespun coat topped a gingerbread brown wool skirt and a pimento red blouse, while a ginger wool hat and three-quarter length belted coat walked out with a toast colored wool skirt.

Golden yellow elasticized linen fashioned one striking summer ensemble. It combined a two piece frock trimmed with a multicolored raffia belt and a three-quarter length belted coat of the same fabric.

Make a Chair Set or a Scarf
in This Fillet
Crochet.

PATTERN 3252

The richness of fillet crochet can add charm to your furniture—especially when the design is planned as is this one, to show off the detail of actively by an open mesh. Here the graceful chrysanthemums contrast with the lace stitch that surrounds them. The design makes a handsome chair set—and they are so popular now—lovely scarf ends or mats, so get some string and start on one of these accessories.

In pattern 3252 you will find a chart and complete instructions for making the set; illustrations of the set and of all stitches used and material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

HELPS for HOUSEWIVES

KITCHEN CUFF-NOTES LIGHTEN DAILY COOKING DRUDGEY

To reheat the large puddings made during the holiday season, place in the pan in which baked, cover tightly, and steam for an hour. The smaller puddings require but half an hour steaming. This can be done in the top of a double boiler, tightly covered.

Creamed mushrooms surrounded with spinach, well seasoned, make an especially inviting dish for luncheon or supper.

Codfish cakes are good served at other meals than breakfast. Try some with cabbage salad for luncheon or supper.

Sandwich Fillings.

Peanut butter, creamed and mixed with grape jelly.

Cream cheese, creamed and blended with chopped salted peanuts.

Tongue, sliced thin and spread with white cream cheese.

Chopped preserved ginger mixed with orange marmalade.

Honey mixed with cream cheese and pecans, chopped.

Soot May Be Banished.

If you do not wish to show hospitality to soot that may gather around your wood-burning fireplace clean the sides where the soot has collected with a weak mixture of salt and vinegar.

While on the dark, dull subject of dirt, stains can be removed from the kitchen sink or any enamel by cleaning with a steel, or rough glove.

A Note on Fruit.

It is best to open tinned fruits at least an hour before the year served.

Captive fruits like a bit of air before cooking. Rhubarb and apples are delicious cooked in the juice of an orange instead of in water. Fruit that is too ripe should neither be eaten nor cooked.

For a festive sauce for plain pudding, add chopped citron, dates or nuts to your regular lemon or vanilla sauce recipe.

Keep several ironing board covers on hand, so the covers can be easily and quickly changed.

Spring Blouses Come In Vivid Lace

Paris (AP)—Lace in vivid colors makes some of the new spring blouses. A three-quarter length coat and skirt of green, red and string-colored plaid wool is worn with a green and red lace blouse and a suit of natural colored linen is accompanied by a green and beige lace blouse.

Coats are Casual

London (AP)—Jackets and coats are loose and casual, often left unbuttoned with an effect of width at the bottom. There is a decided flare to topcoats and capes.

Organdy and Satin Make Tablecloths Smart and Gay for Formal Occasions

By MARGERY TAYLOR

Copyright, 1935, by McCall's Magazine For The Freeman

A modern tablecloth—but perhaps the cloth begins it all and the setting has to live up to it.

Organdy, of all things, is the very newest in smart tablecloths for formal occasions. Imagine a simple white square of organdy with a 12-inch border of fine white net all around it and, in the center, a circular embroidered design of conventionalized flowers. And set on it would be a centerpiece of white modern fruit, studded with gold stars, crystals and silver, and rimless white plates with small gold medallions.

Or you can have plain organdy with a white satin border—organdy and satin napkins to match; and there's white handkerchiefs woven with a deep circular inset of organdy. Rayon is also smart for the formal modern table.

Rich colors are also popular with the modern—brilliant blue, navy, luncheon, blue and white, in dots and squares; two shades of purple, rose, and clear reds. How they dramatize polished chromium and aluminum, mirror glass and crystal!

Startlingly novel is the cloth designed for the table decoration. Flowers and figurines, to be placed in the upper right hand corner instead of the center. And the plates are laid along the opposite side and one end—ideal arrangement for a table in front of a large window with a fine view.

You don't have to have modern tableware with a modern cloth. A wonderful combination would be one of those new cloths of yellow rayon with stripes of varying widths—set with old bronzes and silver dishes, tall antique polychrome candlesticks and red glass.

New stain-proof and waterproof cloths of fabric are perfect for informal use—they are only a damp cloth for laundering. Designs are geometric—squares, triangles, circles, in brilliant colors—and they are made with white china or pastel colors are also popular with the modern—brilliant blue, navy, luncheon,

ATTRACTIVE LAWN FEATURES

(Designs Copyright by Southern Pine Association.)

Three architectural features for making more useful and attractive the lawn and home grounds are shown in the accompanying illustration. At the top is an ornamental arch, or pergola, over a driveway with a decorative seat at each side. The design is of a type of driveway arch that usually is built separate from the house, which, of course, is necessary if the driveway is at some distance from the residence.

The design at the lower left is of a strong heavy-built pergola with latticed ends and side. This structure would be attractive and serviceable if built at the end of the yard or along the side of the yard against a lattice fence. Either a long bench placed to the weather.

or several smaller seats should be provided for the pergola. By roofing, it can be made a garden shelter, or even would be suitable for a public walking station, as it is of strong, heavy construction.

At lower right is pictured a simple, but attractive design of a single lattice pergola. This structure would make an effective decoration if placed against a side wall of the residence, in an outside corner of the house, alongside the porch, or on both sides of an entrance.

Two of southern pine for construction of these lawn features is suggested owing to its inherent properties of strength, durability and resistance to deterioration when exposed to the weather.

TURKISH WOMEN HELD UP AS MODELS FOR AMERICA

Istanbul, Turkey (AP)—"American women should feel ashamed," it was declared here by Mrs. Corbett Ashby, president of the International Alliance of Women, citing the high proportion of women in the Turkish national assembly.

Seventeen women deputies have been elected to the new parliament, out of a total membership of 339. "It is a much higher proportion," she said, "than in the United States Congress, or in the British and other European parliaments."

Day Wear in London

London (AP)—Straight slim skirts of normal length are featured for day wear, the outline accentuated above the waist by full, flattened sleeves, often short. Necklines are soft and high, with touches of lace or vivid scarfs in glass.

Girl Scouts of Troop 7

The Girl Scouts of Troop 7 held their regular weekly meeting on Thursday at School No. 2. On February 16, the Girl Scouts of Ulster county held their mid-year rally at the New York State Armory. There was a large attendance of Scouts, all the girls being in uniform. With the help of the Scout leader, Mrs. Speiser, the girls of the troop gave a 16-piece of baby layette, which they made themselves. This will be given to a very needy woman. The Girl Scouts of Ulster county were very happy to present to Miss Ann Cassidy a medal for her work in teaching the girls, child nursing. This week at the meeting the Scouts appointed Mildred Speiser head of the Brownie Scouts. At 4:30 the meeting came to a close with the goodnight circle.

Veils as "Halo"

London (AP)—Stiff hat veils are being worn as "halos" above the brim.

NEW STRAINS OF CALLIOPSIS

Gay Calliopsis, an Annual for Every Garden.

sion of it. Calliopsis is one of the easiest, hardiest and most easily grown annuals. Its wiry stemmed blooms in yellow and maroon and crimson being fine material for bouquets as well as for garden decoration.

There are a number of new strains recently developed which are particularly fine with large flowers and more compact growth than the older varieties. Most have yellow edges of differing width with a maroon, scarlet or crimson center.

The rich red sorts are most effective in the garden but need the contrasting tones of the yellow varieties to display them properly. The tall varieties planted with the dwarf compact types for edgings make fine groups. As they come into bloom early from seed they are one of the most useful of annuals for late planting. They are not particular as to soil but want plenty of sun.

They do not transplant as well as many annuals and should be sown where they are to bloom. The plants should be thinned to a foot apart for the tall sorts and 6 to 8 inches for the dwarf types which then form a solid mass studded with bloom. The foliage is fine and almost hidden by the wealth of bloom in midsummer.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

What Quixote Needed.

Eldon, Mr.—Imagine Mrs. Charles Caldwell's surprise when her home started to tip over and dishes crashed to the floor.

It wasn't an earthquake. Her husband had started the engine of his dump truck in the basement garage, not realizing the hoisting apparatus was in gear. The house was lifted six inches off its foundation.

Man in the Moon.

Cape Man Court House, N. J.—It might have been the moon that Mrs. William Rhoads' Alredale was barking at. Advisory Master William B. Knight ruled in a divorce case. Rhoads contended his wife trained the dog to bark as he came home, so it would warn her and she could tell a policeman-friend to depart through the back door. Knight refused the petition.

HIGH FALLS
High Falls, March 2.—There are a number of cases of measles in this vicinity.

Mrs. Katie Pratt of Stone Ridge was a guest at Locust Hurst Cottage on Wednesday and Miss Van Wageningen and niece Miss Cynthia, were most delighted to welcome her.

Miss Louise D. Van Wageningen of Kingston, who spent five weeks at the home of Mrs. Preston Church returned to the city on Saturday.

Mrs. C. I. LeFever, Jr., of Bloomington took dinner with her mother, Mrs. J. M. Barnhart on Wednesday and greatly enjoyed visiting the Ayers farm and seeing the little lambs.

The first day of March was here and spring will now soon be with us. They say that the 21st of March is the real opening of the springtime, so we can soon look for the pussy willows, those early barchers of spring to make their appearance.

The Ladies' Missionary Society met with Mrs. Oscar Church on Thursday afternoon and the book was a most interesting one, the subject being Japan.

Miss Louise Van Wageningen took dinner with her aunt, Miss Mary C. Van Wageningen on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor G. Farrell of the Close were visitors in town on Friday.

The Rev. James Cantine of Stone Ridge will occupy the pulpit of the Reformed Church this Sunday, March 2. Service at 9:45 a. m. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

ANCIENT ENGLISH BLUE LAW PUTS IN TWO DIRECTIONS

Faringdon, England (AP)—Faringdon's butchers and rounders are deadlocked over the question of Sunday observance.

For years it has been the practice of the butchers to kill their animals on Sunday.

The rounders, running an ancient statute placed on the books in the reign of Charles I which imposes a fine of $1.00, warned the butchers to stop.

The butchers, however, threatened to retaliate under the same act, which imposes penalties on those who do not attend worship.

They said they would keep tally and send the names of those who failed to go to church to the magistrates for a fine of 10s. per head. Since required by the act, the magistrates

Reason for Interruption.
Charleston, W. Va.—In the middle of a hot parliamentary debate Delegate R. M. Hertleick finally got the Speaker of the House to recognize him.

"It's an important local measure," explained Hertleick. "So local, in fact, that it applies only to my own household."

"A new delegate has arrived there and this member wants to pass over cigars to the House."

Questions and Answers.

Question: How does one get by a large bus on the highway?

Answer: By following it until the driver dies of exhaustion.

Question: What is the import of a woman's hand signal?

Answer: That she is about to do something—you don't know what; and that makes it unanimous.

Question: When a fire engine's siren is heard approaching, what should all motorists do?

Answer: Follow the engine.

Question: Why do drivers honk their horns vociferously when their path is obstructed by a stalled car?

Answer: To confuse the victim and delay still further his ultimate removal.

Question: What is the proper method of parking a vehicle?

Answer: Find a space not quite wide enough to accommodate it. Bump the car in front. Bump the car in back. Entangle bumpers with either, or both, of them. Swear. Abandon vehicle with its end sticking out into the street.

Recently curiosity was aroused by a man who was walking along the street stretching out his arm when even he took a crossing, or turned down a street. An onlooker ventured to stop him and inquire why he did this. The man made no secret of it. "It's all I have left of my automobile," he replied.

If no drivers enjoyed risking their necks, who would they get to drive the ambulance?

They were having a Save-a-Life campaign, and the teacher was describing a careful driver.

"He drove slowly and cautiously," she said. "He obeyed the speed limit. He cut down the speed of his car when he turned the corners. He stopped at every street intersection and waited for other vehicles to pass. He—"

"Geel!" a small voice popped up from the rear row. "That guy musta had a flat tire."

Murmurings: Nowadays it's lack of parking space that makes the world go around. ... And nowadays the shortest distance between points is usually torn up. ... It isn't the automobile jack that lifts the mortgage. ... When all our forests are gone, we can go out and chop down the billboards. ... There never will be a fool-proof motor until the horn button operates the brakes. ... People who used to fall into temptation now motor their way there. ... Consider yourself lucky if you drive an automobile and live to see your mistake.

Martin Itzen, owner and operator of the only street car and undertaking parlor in Skagway, Alaska, took Mae West literally when he heard her famous, "Come up and see me some time." He traveled all the way from his home to meet Mae. He is shown above with the actress, standing on the rear platform of his car. (Associated Press Photo)

Judge Schirick Held A Very Busy Session

Much picture in Colones was this: As a result of the last election the city had a fusion government made up of "disgruntled Democrats and Republicans." He asked that the names of the 100 Democrats who claimed they had enrolled at the last election be placed on the enrollment list or they would not be qualified to act in the next primaries as they were not listed as enrolled.

Several members of the election board were present in court.

Judge Schirick directed that the mustered ballots and the affidavits be left with him and that he would reserve decision on the motion.

Seeks An Injunction

A motion was made by Cashin & Dwig, representing the New York Modern Bakery, Inc., of this city, for an injunction to restrain George Rogers of this city from engaging in the bakery business in the former Selmann bakery at 11 Sycamore street. The motion was argued by Attorney Arthur B. Ewig. He said that George Rogers was the son of the late David Rogers. That David Rogers and a Mr. Serota had engaged in the bakery business here and later the bakery was taken over by the New York Modern Bakery, Inc. That at the time a contract was made, and that one of the terms of the contract to sell was that George Rogers would not engage in the bakery business for a period of two years. Mr. Ewig said that Rogers was now conducting a bakery at 11 Sycamore street and that he had leased the bakery there for a period of 10 years and that this was in direct violation of the agreement he had signed.

In reply to the motion for a temporary injunction, Attorney Roger H. Loughran, who appeared for Mr. Rogers, said that the agreement was not binding on Rogers as he was under the legal age of 21 years when it was signed, and also on the ground that the agreement had not been signed by Serota.

Judge Schirick reserved decision.

Wants Wife Restrained

Homier J. Townsend of Ellenville, through his attorney, Leroy Lounsberry, moved for the granting of a temporary injunction to restrain his wife, Mrs. Lillian Townsend, of New York city, pending the trial in which a permanent injunction is sought, to restrain his wife from bringing suit against him for her support.

Attorney Lounsberry in arguing the motion said that the couple had been married in February of 1930, and lived together for a while until certain difficulties arose between them and that in March of 1932, they entered into an agreement to separate in which the wife agreed not to seek the support of her husband, and that in consideration of the wife signing such an agreement the husband had given her $11,500.

Mr. Lounsberry said that in September, 1934, the wife instituted action in the domestic relations court in New York to compel her husband to furnish her with support. He said that the wife was annoying and harassing her husband by lodging suits against him, and that was the reason he sought the granting of a temporary injunction to restrain her from doing so in the future.

Attorney Joseph Avis of this city, who represented the wife, opposed the granting of the application. He said that the wife had just been released from a hospital when her husband induced her to sign a separation agreement. He said that the proceeding in Domestic Relations Court had not been dismissed, but had been set down for hearing on March 8.

Attorney Avis said the question was whether the husband should support his wife or that she should become a burden on the taxpayers. "She should have thought of that at the time she took the $11,500," observed Attorney Lounsberry.

"I didn't get it," interrupted Mrs. Townsend, who sat in the court room as she arose from her seat.

Judge Schirick at the close of arguments said he would reserve decision in the matter.

Three From Napanoch

Alphonse Kolouhoun, Hubert Fleming and Richard Mandell, three inmates at the institution for Detention Delinquents at Napanoch, had instituted habeas corpus proceedings for their discharge from that institution. The proceedings came up before Judge Schirick, who questioned each of the three prisoners. Fleming, a negro, told the court he liked being at Elmira better than confinement in Napanoch. Mandell told the court he had learned his lesson, and all three urged that the proceedings be approved as they wanted to return to their homes.

Assistant Attorney General David C. Cope opposed the granting of the writs, and called Dr. Milton Herrington, first assistant superintendent at the institution, who testified that in his opinion the three were not qualified to be released.

Judge Schirick reserved decision in all three applications.

Equity Action Heard

Surrogate George F. Kaufman appeared for George C. Schoenitz and his wife in an equity action against the Saurer Bank and Christian I. Schoenitz, and the court at the close of Mr. Kaufman's argument directed judgment in favor of the plaintiff and appointed John M. Cashin as referee to sell the two-thirds interest held by George C. Schoenitz and his wife in a $14,000 mortgage. This mortgage covers the Schoenitz Hotel property.

George C. Schoenitz, called as a witness by Mr. Kaufman, testified that he had loaned his brother $3,000 in 1924, which came him the two-thirds interest in the mortgage. Sought A Divorce.

Mrs. Pearl Hatfield of this city brought an action for divorce against her husband, David Hatfield, which was not defended by the husband. She was represented by Attorney Walter J. Miller of this city.

Mrs. Hatfield testified that she was married in Kingston on May 19, 1924, to the Rev. J. W. Taylor.

William Hatfield of Troy, N. Y., a brother of David Hatfield, testified that David Hatfield and a woman who was not Mrs. Hatfield had called at the Hatfield home in Troy and spent

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—If Mary McCor mick, the operatic warbler, would like to sit on a piano and sing "blues" songs—she said so the other day—she has company aplenty in unexpected fashion.

Ethel Merman, the blues-singer, not only would like to sing better-grade compositions but does. She worked out on a series of lullabies, and finally got up courage to sing them at an intimate gathering one day. She got a hand—and then everybody called for "Eadie Was a Lady."

In the movies, where many actors don't know what they want to do, there are plenty of others who do know. How long it takes the producers to find out they can do those other things is sometimes said.

Eddie Now A Comic

Edward G. Robinson came to films from the stage play, "The Kibitzer," presented right here in Los Angeles. It was a comic role he played, but Eddie forthwith became a gangster. There was comedy in his interpretation of "Little Caesar," but toughness and gun-play predominated. So Robinson the comedian was more or less subordinated, but not for long. In "The Whole Town's Talking" he has a dual role to show off both sides of his ability. (There ought to be a rule that every new player begin with a dual role. Then he could keep on playing two parts over after instead of only one!)

Frank Morgan made his name on the stage as a comedian, but Hollywood forgot. So Morgan became a stock character with only an occasional part in which he could get laughs. "The Affairs of Cellini" gave him his large moment of mirth, a moment since extended to hours.

Clark Gable himself probably didn't know he was a light comedian until Frank Capra directed him, in "It Happened One Night" revived the drooping Gable career and discovered him anew. On the stage, playing in stock, Gable must have done that very type of role many a time. But Hollywood didn't know about that.

Jory Was a Heavy

It took Victor Jory, one of the foremost leading men of the stock companies, more than a year to get out of the "heavy" class to which Hollywood, without even consulting its card-index, consigned him.

Musicals brought Jack Haley from musical comedy to Hollywood with the first time, and kept him here until Alvin Toffler "sent him out." When Haley came back, so had musicals—but now he does pictures that don't sing or dance.

But then Hollywood had Claudette Colbert, a bright particular star of today, playing sweet, homey little girls almost exclusively until DeMille made her a siren in "Sign of the Cross."

Bedlam of Nationalities Line Singapore Streets

The crowded Singapore streets present a bedlam of nationalities, each garbed in the homeland attire as modified by an equatorial sun, observes a correspondent in the Washington Post. Countless Chinese coolies, bareheaded, sport abbreviated black shorts for their complete costume. Tall, powerful, brown Sikhs from the hills of India parade in long skirts worn outside of a voluminous pair of white pants; their long hair bound by a turban which hangs well below the shoulder. Thousands of cool blacks, painfully thin, parade from south India as a marked contrast to the northern Indians as they wander about in brightly tinted saris.

The "forgotten men" of Malaya, the native Malays themselves, outnumbered by their fellow and black brethren from China and India, border their Mohammedan camps squarely on their brown heads and wear their way unimpeded with the drama of a fast moving race. Egyptians, Arabs, Filipinos, Chinese, Japanese, Javanese, Burmese—all mingle in this truly international city.

The night there. He said that the woman had been introduced by Earl as his wife.

Judge Schirick reserved decision. The special term held by Judge Schirick on Friday was one of the busiest held in some time. He continued and continued in session until nearly 3 o'clock before adjourning to chambers.

Don't pass up a garden because you have a small space of ground, or because you think the soil is too poor. Any small area will produce something, even if only a bit of lettuce and radishes, and by following one-up with another, you can have a whole season's supply.

and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilsey of Gloversville, New York, were the guests of Mrs. Andrew Walker. They attended the wedding of Miss Gertrude Walker to Donald D. Beasley on Saturday last.

Mrs. Marion Hashbrouck Ennist, proprietor of the Art Gift Shop in the Governor Clinton Hotel, attended the New York City Gift Show at the Hotel Pennsylvania. Mrs. Ennist was in New York for two days, during which time she made purchases of spring and summer stock.

Word has been received of the birth of a daughter, Barbara Joan, to Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery M. Pennington, third, of Westport, Conn., on February 24. Mr. Pennington was formerly a resident of this city.

Last evening Mrs. Roger H. Loughran of Hurley held a benefit card party at her home for the Hurley P. T. A. Both bridge and Michigan were played. Although the number attending was not large, all had a most enjoyable evening. Refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Loughran, Mrs. Cornelius Treadwell, Miss Margaret D. W. Treadwell, Miss Mary Treadwell, Miss Anna DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Clifton Belote, Miss Margaret Falvey, Mrs. Angus Rowse, Miss Augusta Pfrommer, Mrs. John Pfrommer, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Palen, Mrs. Thomas Whelan and Miss Mary E. Welhof.

Friday evening, March 8, the residents of this city will have the opportunity of hearing Colonel Girard Lindsey McEntee give an illustrated lecture on "The British Occupation of Jerusalem." This talk is being given under the auspices of the Baraca Class of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. Colonel McEntee, who was born and brought up on West Chestnut street, attended this church as a boy and later became a member. After graduating from Ulster Academy he was appointed to the regular army by the late Theodore Roosevelt. Colonel McEntee, who is retired, is now residing at Saugerties. His son, Duca, is a cadet at U. S. Military Academy at West Point, while a second son, Girard McEntee, third, is a midshipman at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. Both are members of their graduating classes.

This campaign during the World War which has come to be known as "The Second Great Crusade," because it led to the liberation of the Holy Land from the Turks who had held it since the Eighth Century, is a part of the great world struggle which remained relatively unknown to the average person. The interest of General Allenby's campaign in this land of Biblical story will be comprehensively told by Colonel McEntee Friday evening. The public is cordially invited to attend this lecture which is being held in the church auditorium at 8 o'clock. A free will offering will be taken at this time which will be applied to the fund for property improvement.

Mrs. Frederick Kiefer of Flushing, Long Island, has been spending two weeks with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Kiefer, of 319 Main street. Mrs. Kiefer was joined by her husband for the Washington birthday week-end. They returned to their home last Sunday.

Mrs. William E. Kernahan of White Plains has been spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Quinette, of 154 Ten Broeck avenue. On January 19 Mrs. Kernahan and her mother sailed for an extended trip to Bermuda but after being there only two week days Mrs. Quinette was recalled to Kingston by the illness of her husband.

John B. O'Connor of Edenville and Dr. Samuel T. Levitas of West Chester street are sailing today on the S. S. Monarch of Bermuda for a two weeks vacation on the Island of Bermuda.

Mrs. Emma Swope of the department of Home Economics, Cornell University, is now instructing the different units of the Home Bureau throughout the county in the various crafts. Mrs. Swope who is stopping at the Huntington during her stay in Kingston expects to be working in the county for a month.

Many are the native customs and traditions that have come increasingly into disuse. But at least one of them was revived last evening when more than a hundred friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest DuBois of Marbletown, who were married Friday, February 22, at Newburgh, gathered to give them a "kikimington." This party which was arranged by Alfred Meyer of Marbletown, met at the Marble Gate in Newburgh where there motoring to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Harford where the bride and groom were calling for the evening. Sereading the astonished couple with every noise making confetti from tin horns to shot guns and dynamite, the group kidnapped the bride and groom, bearing them to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cole of Marbletown, where the "kikimington" continued with a dance and reception.

Yesterday afternoon the pupils of the Hurley School enjoyed a program of dance numbers given for them by the pupils of Mrs. Emilia Nicobono Wehr. The program included a Russian dance by Miss Marianna Davis, a musical comedy dance by Miss Marion Brill, a hard toe dance by Miss Beverly Bonestell, and the Hot Cha Cha by Miss Davis and Miss Brill. Miss Emilia Nicobono accompanied at the piano for all the dances.

Don't pass up a garden because you have a small space of ground, or because you think the soil is too poor. Any small area will produce something, even if only a bit of lettuce and radishes, and by following one-up with another, you can have a whole season's supply.

"MERCY MURDER" MOTHER RELEASED FROM PRISON

Manchester, England, March 2. (P)—Mrs. May Brownhill, 62-year-old woman who was condemned to die for the "mercy murder" of her imbecile son, was released today from Strangeways prison.

Mrs. Brownhill was sentenced December 1 to be hanged. A jury after five minutes deliberation convicted her and recommended that she be shown mercy. The judge ignored the recommendation but the jury's suggestion was caught up by sympathetic persons from all over the British Isles.

George Lansbury, prominent Laborite, was one of those who was most insistent that mercy should be shown in the case.

Two days after sentence was passed the Home Office informed Lansbury that there would be a reprieve.

The frail Leeds woman testified that she gave her son Denis 100 sedative tablets and gas because she feared an operation she feared might be fatal and deprive the helpless son of her attention. She had nursed him for 30 years.

After sentence was passed it was learned that the elderly woman would have to undergo another operation before she can be restored to health.

The release was by order of the Home Secretary whose prerogative it is not only to grant a reprieve from a death sentence but also to decide if a term of imprisonment should be served in its stead.

The poignant case of Mrs. Brownhill was one of the rare instances where reprieve was followed by a release. Likewise there is no parallel in recent years of the rapid sequence of events in which a person was sentenced to death one day and decision to act on the part of the Home Office followed two days later.

Our Cousins

A cousin is one collaterally related by descent from a common ancestor, but not a brother or sister. Children of brothers and sisters are first cousins to one another. The children of first cousins are second cousins to one another. Children of second cousins are third cousins to one another, and so on. The child of one's first cousin is a first cousin once removed; the grandchild of one's first cousin is a first cousin twice removed, and so on. And, vice versa, the cousin of one's father or mother is a first cousin once removed, etc. Confusion sometimes arises from the custom of some who speak of the children and grandchildren of their first cousins as second and third cousins, respectively. But the title given here is the correct and almost universal one for reckoning cousins.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Kingston High Ends Season By Drubbing Newburgh, 35-18

Friday evening in the local high school gym, the Kingston High basketball team successfully ended its 1934-35 season by easily defeating Newburgh Free Academy by a score of 35-18. Charlie Bock scored 16 points.

After getting off to a slow start in the first period, the Klasmen became back to sink field and foul shots to gain a commanding lead that never was threatened seriously. In scoring, Charlie Bock again ran wild to sink eight fields for 16 points. In the last three games that Kingston has played he has scored 43 points. This flashy forward should be a sensation in DUSO circles next year. Following Charlie Bock in scoring was Jack Linden and Eddie Bock, who scored eight and six points apiece. Rubin was high for Newburgh with seven.

The third quarter was a quarter filled with foul shots and time-outs. In this period Newburgh hid the major part of its scoring but never challenged Kingston's lead. This quarter ended 31-17. The final period was a rough and fast affair with little scoring. Kingston dropped in two fields and Newburgh scored a foul to make the final score read 35-18.

In the preliminary the Columbians defeated the Jayvees 24-17. B. DeBrosky, playing a brilliant game, led the scorers with nine points. Murphy scored five. The Columbians led from start to finish.

At the finish of last night's game Jack Linden was elected captain for this year's team. It was a mere formality as no captain had been elected for this year's quintet, the captain being appointed for each game by Coach Kias. Next year's captain will be elected Monday.

Battery A Juniors Beat Cornwall Five

The Battery A Junior Varsity defeated the Cornwall Big Five last night at Cornwall, 32-17. The Varsity started out strong and crushed their opponents' defense, to take a 15-10 lead at the half. In the third and fourth periods they widened the gap and at the finish were leading by 32-17. Conroy starred for the winners with 12 points. Vray led the losers with eight.

In the preliminary game the Rosendale girls defeated the Cornwall Girls with less than three minutes to play. The manager of Rosendale withdrew the team when the referee called some questionable fouls.

High School Runner Breaks World Record

New York, March 2 (AP)—Chalk up a new world indoor sprint record for Ted Ellison, 20-year-old athlete from DeWitt Clinton High School. Running in the Columbia University interscholastic track championships last night, Ellison was clocked in 22.2-16 seconds for the 220 yard dash, a fifth of a second better than the world record Loren Nicholson set at 22.4-10 in 1925. Ellison, national scholastic champion at the distance, won by 15 yards from Bill Hopkins of John Marshall H. S., Richmond.

PORT EWEEN WINGS DEFEAT RED FOXES BY 34-22 SCORE

Friday evening in the Port Eween Reformed Church Hall, the Port Eween Wings barely defeated the Red Foxes also of Port Eween by a score of 34-22. The Foxes were spotted plenty in both weight and experience. Terpening led the winners with 17 points. Bill Ferguson, top form, was the ace scorer of the Foxes with 14 points. Walker scored six points for the winners and Scott and Clark for the losers.

Legionnaires Enter American Pro League

Friday afternoon word was received from John J. O'Brien, president of the American Pro Basketball League, that the Kingston Legionnaires had been admitted to take the place of the Boston club.

Sunday, the Boston team will play their last game in the American League and next week the Legionnaires, on Tuesday, will take their place and finish out the schedule. The New Britain Jackways will be the locals' opponents Tuesday at the Auditorium. Kingston fans will have another opportunity to witness their old favorite, Benny Borgmann. On Friday, the Jewels will be the guests of the Legionnaires.

Borgmann of New Britain has taken a clean lead in the race for point scoring honors, and now leads Berenson of Brooklyn, in second place, by fourteen points. McDermott of Brooklyn has made a most encouraging showing for a newcomer to league competition by scoring 70 points in 7 games. This mark has enabled the youthful Brooklynite to advance to fifth place in the scoring records, thereby surpassing the accomplishments of a great number of more experienced players of known ability.

The following standings and individual statistics were forwarded to The Freeman by President O'Brien: Standing of American Basketball League to Date

Rosendale "Polar Club" Shivers For A Picture

Just to prove that they are not freeze sports when it comes to winter athletics a number of members of the Rosendale Township Association have formed a "Polar Club" and are taking a daily dip in Williams Lake.

A great deal of interest has been aroused among members of the association concerning the development of the town of Rosendale as a winter sports center. Already skating parties have been arranged on Williams Lake, and this present club of winter water lovers is but another step in an effort to create an all year vacation and pleasure center in this section.

Lou Ambers Takes Decision Over Sammy Fuller; Is Ready For Ross

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 2 (AP)—As a consequence of blowing down the latest obstacle in his path to lightweight title fame, Lou Ambers, the youthful "Herkimer Hurricane," today has a clear claim to a match with Barney Ross, king of the 135 pounders, so far as the official boxing family of New York is concerned.

Rated the No. 1 championship contender in this state sometime ago, Ambers made the solemn commission of the fight game look very good indeed by the thorough, convincing manner in which he plastered rugged Sammy Fuller of Boston in 15 brisk rounds in Madison Square Garden last night.

Ambers failed to show sufficient punching power to dislodge the chunky Boston Italian from his feet but his up-state boxer had his opponent dizzy from a two-fisted fire, from start to finish. Ambers, on the Associated Press score-sheet, took 12 rounds—all except the third, seventh and 15th—and satisfied a crowd of 10,000 that he is one of the best lightweight prospects developed in years, despite the fact he is only 20 years old and has had less than 50 professional fights. Last night's match was only his second appearance in a main go at the Garden.

Ambers will be offered a match with Tony Canzoneri, former holder of the lightweight title, but may refuse it in preference to waiting for an outdoor match with Ross for the title. The Garden, which has Ambers under contract, wants to pair Lou with Tony March 23 or 24. The offer may be too attractive for Ambers and his handlers to turn down, especially as they are confident Canzoneri can be taken by the "hurricane".

Ambers weathered a storm last round in whipping Fuller, who rallied unexpectedly in the 15th to rock Lou with several robust right handers and open a gash under the youngster's left eye. Up to that point, however, Ambers had an overwhelming margin on points, piled up through the busy use of his whip-

Vernon Gomez Is First Yank Holdout of Year

New York, March 2 (AP)—Vernon (Goofy) Gomez, the slender south-paw who led the American League pitchers both in games won and lost and in general effectiveness last season, is the first Yankee holdout of the year. And there are no halfway measures about his salary demands.

Returning yesterday from his world tour, Gomez found a contract calling for the same $13,500 stipend he got last year. He promptly told Ed Barrow, Yankee business manager, he wanted just twice as much on a two-year proposition. A 30-minute discussion failed to straighten out their differences although Barrow announced that he had made "a mighty good proposition."

It was understood the offer was for a two-year contract at an annual salary of between $15,000 and $20,000 and that Gomez had no intention of settling for less than the latter figure.

"I haven't had a raise in three years and I feel I've got a big one coming. If I don't get the money when I'm going good, when can I expect to cash in?"

Beach Holds Its Own, Campbell Eager to Run

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 2 (AP)—This was Sir Malcolm Campbell's day, the one he has waited weeks for, but whether it held for him a new world speed automobile record above his own mark of 272.108 miles an hour or a mere 200 miles an hour, or 100, or no trial at all rested entirely with the white sands of the wave-washed beach.

A final survey of last night's low tide before the waves started sweeping in, covering the 1 1/4 mile strand with another tide that doesn't recede entirely until 11:27 a. m. (E. S. T.) today, showed the beach was holding its own.

"The wind is shifting somewhat," Sir Malcolm said after riding over it in his pleasure car last night, "but the beach is fairly good. Unless this tide coming in now does unexpected damage, I shall run."

Cheerful, pager now that he feels the long wait is over, Campbell was noncommittal as to possible speeds. "You can go only as fast as the beach allows," he said. "It's still far from a 300 mile an hour beach. It needs a several more high tides backed by a strong northeast wind."

But he said this too, in 1932, when he set his 272-mile record.

Boston Uncorried About First Base

Although the Boston Red Sox spent so much money getting their new manager, Joe Cronin, that the market price on all other prospective Yawkey purchases went sky-high, the Sox are satisfied they've solved their first base problem with acquisition of Ellsworth Dahlgren. Southpaw Johnny Merena is one of the Bostonians' up-coming hurlers.

Jumping Into a Famous Spot

Jesse Hill was one of the country's greatest broad jumpers during his day at Southern California. Now he's leaping clear across the Hudson river from Newark to Yankee stadium, and may land smack-dab in the spot Babe Ruth has been patrolling all these years. Will he stick?

"Filmtalker" At Taxpayers' Meeting

A novel program of timely interest will be presented before the Kingston Taxpayers Association on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in city court chambers. It involves the use of the "Filmtalker", a modern electrical device which permits voice transcription in an illustrated address. Dr. Rowland Rogers, of New York, will direct the showing.

The subject is titled "The Road Ahead—Why Better Transportation." The speaker brought by the "Filmtalker" is Col. Willard T. Chevalier, author-engineer and authority on transportation. He is vice president of McGraw Hill Publications, New York, publishers of Industrial, Engineering and Transportation Journals.

In this program which is illustrated on the screen, Col. Chevalier traces the fundamentals of transportation and their effects upon the public. He advocates a program for an adequate correlation of rail, air, water and highway transportation in America and points out the importance of motor highway transport as an underlying essential to economic recovery. Members of the association are being urged to bring their friends for this unique presentation.

The public is cordially invited. Admission free.

One of the table adornments was a massive and richly adorned birthday cake made by William Elsasner, one of the guests, now of Irvington, New Jersey. Mr. Elsasner was formerly employed as cake baker at the Shurtzer bakery in Poughkeepsie. Accompanying him were Miss Lillian Diefenbach and Miss Lydia Geiger, trained nurses who have been spending their vacations with Mr. and Mrs. Van Benschoten for some years past.

Col. Meagher Heads C.M.T.C. Committee

Lt. Col. Frank L. Meagher, of Kingston, N. Y., has accepted the chairmanship of the Ulster county committee to assist local youths to qualify for this summer's Citizens' Military Training Camps. It was announced yesterday.

The county chairman made public that public spirited physicians of the county have again volunteered their services to the government and will give free physical examinations to candidates for the training camps.

Young men of this county should apply for these examinations to Dr. Virgil B. DeWitt, New Paltz; Dr. Eugene F. Galvin, Rosendale; Dr. A. Clement, Corvallis, Milton; Dr. Charles C. Zachary, Marlborough, and Dr. L. E. Sanford, Kingston.
Declaring that camp vacancies are greatly limited this year, the county chairman stated that youths between 17 and 24 years are eligible to apply. The government pays such necessary expenses as transportation to camp and return and furnishes wholesome food, uniforms, laundry service and athletic equipment.
The camps run for 30 days and attendance does not obligate the candidates for future military service of any kind.

In a statement this morning Col. Meagher said that eight young men had made application for C. M. T. C. training through his office and that information about C. M. T. C. camps has been sent to all high schools in Ulster county.

The following boys from Kingston and vicinity have made application for C. M. T. C. training:
Charles R. Jole, 143 St. James street; Wesley J. Van Natten, Richmond Park; Harford S. Shultz, 101 S. Manor avenue; Edward J. Fitzgerald, 89 Henry street; Carl J. Studer, 64 Boulevard; John T. Wall, Box 64, Stone Ridge; Kenneth C. Vredenburg, West Hurley; Howard E. Limbacher, Route 2, Box 111.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, March 2—The scheduled mid-week prayer and song service was held at the Main street home of Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard Bell on Wednesday evening. A group of 11 persons were present which included Mr. and Mrs. Bell, the Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Lockett and son, Mrs. Bertha Thompson, the Sunday School superintendent, Francis Whispell, Louise Smith, Louise Thompson, Dorothy Smith, Cornelia Davis. The Rev. Mr. Lockett gave an inspiring talk, followed by a season of prayer and testimony. Next week the meeting will be held at the home of Miss Cornelia Davis at West Shokan Heights, where all are cordially welcome.

Teamster Julian Eckert hauled wood for John Henriksen Friday. Mr. Henriksen and Marvin Van Demark readily assisting.
West side sap weather is well along in the makings, few indeed have been the sunny days during the month that the lactical juice failed to flow for a brief spell. Syrup makers and there are some half a dozen prefer to wait however until the heavy frozen snow blanket has melted further. Justice Fred L. Weidner is the west side section's largest scale producer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tiebauth and daughter, Veronica, of Brodhead are spending a few days in New York city.
